

Articulation Agreements

Huntington Junior College maintains articulation agreements with the following schools:

- West Virginia University (WVU) - Business Management
- Herzing University

At HJC, we are constantly exploring agreements with other institutions. In most cases, even without an articulation agreement, other institutions try to help students transfer as many HJC credits as possible. Articulation makes it automatic, but if you have another institution in mind, always take your transcript and ask their Admissions office to assess it to see how many credits would transfer.
